

Why Hire Dr. Brad Bongiovanni

YOU NEED RELEVANCE AND EXPERTISE

Dr. Brad Bongiovanni is an expert in his field and an award-winning speaker. He has 22 years of experience identifying the root cause of the problem and has created a method to solve it. He understands the power of being focused on prevention (risk management) and is an expert in hormonal psychiatry which he uses to re-route the deep connections between stress, burnout, and ineffectiveness. He is a published author, TEDx speaker, international conference speaker, and his work has been published in several scientific journals.

YOU NEED A SPEAKER WHO IS A PLEASURE TO WORK WITH

With over two decades of perfecting the art of listening and seeking first to understand, Dr. Bongiovanni puts you first. He plans his talks with your business in mind and believes that with structure comes freedom. With a results-oriented mindset, he is focused on addressing the specific problems your company or organization faces and presents solutions you can use today, further mitigating the burn of “re-entry” after his speaking engagement is over.

YOU NEED REAL TOOLS YOU CAN USE

Many programs are difficult to remember or simply fade away after a few days. Dr. Bongiovanni’s presentation is easy to understand, relatable, and has staying power. He uses real-life examples to make sure your team gets the message and is positioned to put it into action. With extensive experience working with world-renowned thought leaders across medicine, Dr. Bongiovanni teaches how you can prevent your people from burning out and show your entire team how to prevent it. You’ll see a major shift in company culture and your people will experience true personal transformation after his presentation.

YOU NEED A PROGRAM CUSTOMIZED FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Dr. Bongiovanni researches the problems your organization is facing and makes sure his content is focused on your specific needs. He works with you before his presentation to learn about the specific problems your team is facing. Dr. Bongiovanni is an extraordinary planner and leaves nothing to chance. He has spoken twice at Harvard at the Harvard Faculty Club, and Harvard Club of Boston, where he received the Outstanding Speaker Award in 2019.

YOU WANT AN INTERACTIVE PRESENTATION THAT CAPTURES ATTENTION

Interesting and health-conscious celebrities like Suzanne Somers and Jonathan Goldsmith, “The Most Interesting Man in the World”, have shared the stage with Dr. Bongiovanni because they want their audiences to be captivated as well as educated. Your audience will be able to reboot their total well-being and reignite their both their job and life satisfaction with his simple, proven, and science-based knowledge.

YOU NEED AN EXPERT WITH A FRESH & UP-TO-DATE PERSPECTIVE

Today’s work environment has evolved, and those who evolve with it will position themselves for success, whatever their mission. Dr. Bongiovanni believes in science, and the science is clear. The 3 pillars of love, purpose, and connection are more powerful than what you eat, how much you exercise, or what you’re addicted to. He believes the foundation for actualizing our personal or collective mission is built from these pillars, so we can have a life of significance and leave a legacy for a better world. He believes we will finally have a culture where we can all bring our ‘whole self to work’ when we first understand and architect a life of love, purpose, and connection.
